in § 49-6-1001(a) that underpin our form of government, an understanding of how laws are enacted, and ways citizens shape and influence government and governmental actions.

(2) Students shall be taught about the formation of the governments of the United States and Tennessee using federal and state foundational documents. They shall also be taught the significance and relevance of those federal and state foundational documents today. This instruction shall include:

(A) The historical and present-day significance of the Declaration of Independence;

(B) How the United States Constitution establishes the federal government and the characteristics of the republic created by it;

(C) How the United States Constitution with the Bill of Rights and the Tennessee Constitution with the Declaration of Rights are applicable in today's society;

(D) How the United States Constitution is changed and the changes that have been made to it since 1787;

(E) Why Tennessee has had three (3) constitutions, the Constitutions of 1796, 1834, and 1870, and how changes have been made to the Tennessee Constitution of 1870; and

(F) How other foundational documents of the United States and Tennessee aided in the formation of the federal and state governments.

(c) The commissioner of education shall advise all local boards of education of the requirements of this section.

(d) The department of education shall report on the implementation of this section in the department's annual report under § 49-1-211.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect July 1, 2014, the public welfare requiring it.
